ADMISSION CRITERIA MADE MORE FLEXIBLE

Admission to the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point is competitive. Admission decisions are based on a comprehensive review of both academic and nonacademic factors.

Academic factors: Class rank percentile, ACT or SAT, high school grades, rigor of high school courses, trend in grades in academic courses over time.

Nonacademic factors: Demonstrated leadership; involvement through work experience, extracurricular activities and volunteering; personal characteristics and accomplishments including special talents and abilities, honors, awards and personal qualities; diversity in background and experience; and life circumstances.

No UWSP app fee: Starting August 1, students can apply for free using the Universities of Wisconsin application or Common Application.

UW-Stevens Point is continuing to accept self-report/unofficial high school transcripts for admission as an alternative. In addition, UW-Stevens Point campuses are essay and test-optional; scores are not required for admissions purposes. ACT or SAT scores may be required for some scholarships.
